Database – The database

is the only type of data that will be stored in your database. The database stores all your information, such as computers and their attributes and their current states. Every change performed by a user will be stored in the database. Each database is separated from the others by a unique identification. For example: - If you have 20 Windows computers, your data is stored in a database “CAFE_WINDOWS_20”. - If you have two Windows and three Linux machines, your data is stored in a database “CAFE_WINDOWS_16_3”. - If you have two Windows and three Linux machines, and your Cafe name is “Vito’s Cafe”, your data is stored in a database “CAFE_WINDOWS_16_3_VITO’S_CAFE”. 3. Logging – Krisan System was created on purpose to enable you to create a log for all activities on any computer in your Cafe. Logs are
