"Toronto Argonauts is the only team in Canada that has a north-south brand identity," says Geoff Petrie, president of Rogers Media. "If you walk anywhere in the GTA you see Toronto Argonauts branding. So the question is, can you get a north-south brand identity?" Right now, the south is the brand, says Petrie. "You can't walk on a street corner in the south of the city without seeing the Argos' South end uniforms." But he wants the brand to be recognised in the north, too. Petrie introduced the new marketing campaign at his annual breakfast with the Toronto media. "The Argos have been the most run-and-gun, exciting football team in the league," Petrie said. "You can't drive up Yonge St. on a Saturday afternoon and not see some Toronto Argonauts kicking out of the bottom of the south end zone. We want to move that. "We want to make sure the product is playing up in the north and not in the south. And it's not just in the south. It's Toronto." Petrie says he would never enter television negotiations solely on the premise that it's the south that has to be beaten. He thinks Torontonians will follow. "We need to get Toronto's attention in terms of brand recognition," he says. "We think we are part
