Coalition for India's Anti-Corruption Action The Coalition for India's Anti-Corruption Action (CAACA) is an umbrella organisation of nine Indian NGOs active in the field of anti-corruption, namely Citizens for Social Justice, Corruption Free India, Neta Pravasi Trust, People's Vigilance Centre, People's Union for Civil Liberties, Standing Committee on Public Undertakings, Trishala Trust, Voluntary Service Overseas (VSO), and The Red Ribbon Campaign. In October 2012, the nine NGO partners met and discussed the design of a logo and mission statement for CAACA. The logo and mission statement were designed and are now in use. The above picture depicts how CAACA's logo will look like. Objective CAACA's objectives include engaging civil society, promoting anti-corruption awareness, advocacy, education, researching and disseminating corruption research findings and practice-based experience, networking, capacity building among civil society, coalition building and networking and promoting constructive dialogue between government and the anti-corruption movement. Members After more than 6 months of extensive consultations, of which one key component included creation of a steering committee (to be expanded when the organisation is launched), CAACA has finally announced its membership of nine organizations, as follows: Secretary and Treasurer Purba Samidhi Medhi Secretary Kanchan Kumar Treasurer Swapnil Mahajan Vice-Secretary Tarshna Sheth Vice-Treasurer Shivdutri Chattopadhyay MDCA Sarfaraj Nawab Editor Navaneeth Suman Editor Subhashini Ali Editor Anand Bimla References External links www.coalitionfortheindians.org

Bilateral dystrophies in a patient with multiple sclerosis. Both unilateral and bilateral forms of intramyelinic and perineuronal vacuolar degeneration have been reported in normal brains and in brain biopsies from patients with multiple sclerosis. Neither has a definitive association been found with multiple sclerosis. We report a case of multiple sclerosis in which signs of both types of dystrophies were found in the brain. If the results of additional patients confirm the observations made in our case, these findings may point toward a common causative agent.Q: Load and run activiti Spring Boot App using Maven Currently I have Java 8, Spring Boot 2.1.3, and the activiti-rest-java-client-6.8.1.jar I would like to load and run the Spring Boot App from Maven. How can I do that? A: For this, there are several ways you could proceed. I've listed some of the options: Use activiti-maven-plugin. This is described in the documentation in the section "Lifecycle Mapping" here: This plugin uses the Activiti Plugin Dependencies plugin. Configure the activiti rest client in the pom.xml, and use the Maven activiti plugin to execute the activiti process. Configure the Maven plugin in your pom.xml. This example is from the documentation. You could build a dependency jar that is deployed to your activiti-server, as described in the section Activiti server deployment. Create a runnable jar, by calling the activiti-maven-plugin's compress and executable artifacts. Create the executable jar using the Maven Assembly plugin. Create a jar, and add that to your runnable jar. You could probably just use the jar plugin to create the standalone jar file. Use Ansible or a similar dependency management tool to install/update the dependencies. See the documentation for Ansible. It shows how to download dependencies and update them. Currently, I have Java 8, Spring Boot 2.1.3, and the activiti-rest-java-client-6.8.1.
