"A parlor game in the same tradition of Diplomacy, except with a Genie in your Lamp" -- Kirk Haney "A fantastic gem that's especially satisfying and highly replayable" -- Gamezebo "A fun romp through the deserts and other exotic locations" -- Something Awful New Yankee is a rollicking, action-packed adventure that takes place on a magical island surrounded by the green seas. The island of Kanjaroo and its magical seas are populated by thousands of friendly, fun-loving sailors, pirates and other seafarers. The only thing that makes the island "forbidden" are its resources. The genie of a lamp in a turret in the center of town needs help to use his magic wand to rid the island of the people who would pollute his holy seas and terrify his gentle waves. There are no magic bombs in New Yankee: Under the Genie's Thumb. The magic is in the people who run across the dangerous seas and tattered map that is the only real obstacle between them and the genie of a lamp. Game includes: Genie of a Lamp (Including Wendigo, Scimitar and Crusader!) This is how it works: There are 4 stages with different weathers. During the game, the weather changes from day to night and the sun rises on the players. The best phase for players to take advantage of this and gather candy is in the day. During the night, the rain will start, falling on the pieces of chalk and affecting its capacity to collect candy. Candy sticks on the board, which can be collected only during the day. During the day the competitors can collect a maximum of 9 candy, while during the night only 7. A bonus is that the candy collected during the day can be used to power up the final explosion, making the game more difficult. In the night you have to collect the 7 maximum candy in order to be able to make the next day with more candy, so more points. Only in the final day, the players with the maximum amount of candy will be able to make a powerful explosion that will launch each player outside of the board. Each game of shape arena is 4 minutes long and 4 points are awarded to the player who gets the highest score. Players must use the same playing field throughout the game to earn the most candy and build up a maximum score. Welcome to 2D paintball. Player one and two start in the middle of the map, player three on the left side and player four on the right side. Players must get at least three strikes to eliminate their opponents. In the first round, there are only five players, but in subsequent rounds, you will have to play against increasing numbers of players. This is also referred to as the 'hot' match. The two-player mode consists of two players against each other; the winner is the first to eliminate his or her opponent. The mode called 'Assault' or 'Race' has the same game play as the 'Hot' mode, but it has more players. In the Assault or Race mode, the two players start on opposite sides of the map. Players must get at least three strikes to eliminate their opponents. The mode called 'Hot' or 'All-Out' has the same game play as the 'Assault' or 'Race' mode, but there are more players. The winning player is the first to eliminate his or her opponent. What's new:

and Me. :) I am so glad I found a trendy, fashionable and unique online store called delilasgift. They are the most beautiful clothes for you. Look at the tees and their jerseys. They have everything you want, be it a trendy dress or a retro jersey, you can find it there. I have tried their brand first of all and for me the prices were ridiculously low. I love the quality of everything they offer. I got 14 items for just over AU$500. Check the prices on Amazon (DelilasGift), and you will see a different story. I even have to knock off my USD price in to Euros. ? I really love the dresses they offer that look modern-retro-vintage-feminine. All of them are super affordable. So even if you are not into fashion you can be updated with their designs. The quality is so awesome it doesn't feel like you are buying a second best. It feels like you bought the best thing and it is in high quality. I love the way the clothes are designed. The patterns are neat and the colours and details are well placed that gives a defined finish to the item. The sizing of the products is not standard. If you look up the Facebook page's comments, a lot of people will tell you that the sizing is not standard. For example a size 30 will fit a size 2. The item isn't exactly made small to fit your body type, so if you have a bigger bust than the item you are going to get a large bust size as your normal size. The kit they provide for you is stunning. The convenience of being able to change up your kit of different throwback jerseys and vintage tees, definitely wins over the stretchy and messy undies that many crocs offer. They provide you with fabric softeners and dryers. They give you a musty dryer bag/towel to protect your items. All you have to do is dump out what you already have, wash them, dry them in the provided dryer and you're done. DelilasGift has e-carts all over Europe, USA, and yes Singapore. However they don't have physical stores. They have a guided photo of a local Los Angeles store, however it is not a licensed store. So you better make sure you don't go to the
