For the first time ever, we have integrated the best-in-class physics engine and graphics engine into a single cohesive, real-world simulation. The result is a stunning, enhanced and authentic experience that has never been seen on console, and leverages the power of the next-generation hardware. "Forget about how fast your foot can go. Everything about your play rate, your passing, your dribbling, your shooting, it has an effect on your movement." FIFA 22 will be available in physical and digital format for the PlayStation 4 on September 28, 2018 for $59.99 and in physical and digital format for the Xbox One and Xbox One X on October 12, 2018 for $69.99. All other platforms will be available in December 2018. We did not know what to expect when we came to this year's E3. We had a vague feeling that we were going to see some sort of teaser for FIFA 25, but we didn't know what to expect. However, EA said that they were going to show us FIFA 25 at E3, and at first, it seemed that it was going to be a short teaser to show off all of the improvements that FIFA has been working on. However, it turned out to be much more. In the past, the community was pretty angry at Microsoft over the fact that their hardware was more than a year old and still lagged behind. As a result of Microsoft's subpar hardware, they were unable to give the Xbox One and Xbox One X the same graphical fidelity as the PlayStation 4, despite having similar hardware to the PS4. It turns out that it looks like Microsoft has really listened to the community this time around. There are a lot of graphical and performance improvements made to FIFA in FIFA 22. First of all, the new motion capture technology that was teased at E3 2018 will allow for players to actually behave as though they were in real life. In addition, the players will have a running animation, meaning that they will actually have a running movement rather than just a still image. I would assume that this is going to be similar to NBA 2K19's running animation and NBA 2K19's AI, as both games have the same type of animation that was in NBA 2K18, except for running (at least in 2K19, I am assuming the same for FIFA 22). Second, the lighting has been upgraded

Features Key:

- AI - Improved AI. A new physics engine and upgraded AI algorithms - all working together to make each match more unpredictable.
- Fifa Moments - Stories, Patches, and Teams return. Create a moment for either your team or your favourite club by sharing players' stories, experience the drama and emotion of a real team as you set the record for the fastest goal in FIFA history, or share your team's best memory to be embedded in the game.
- New Spoken Commentary - Keep a microphone near your TV or mobile device and listen to new player and manager commentary that is specially written for FIFA 22. Hear the stories of the games you love and hear the views of your fellow fans by joining the conversation through social media.
- New emotes - Create your own unique emote by pressing the buttons on your controller. Create exciting moments with the new face flickers and emotes inspired by real-world emotion, including those that pull the motivation of your team together, or celebrate the thrill of scoring a goal like no other.
- New Ultimate Team-inspired Trainer match - Step into the boots of defenders and managers to unlock challenges and improve player attributes against your friends.
- Updated Pitch - Dynamic weather conditions, such as sun or rain, are simulated in FIFA 22. Weather never halted a football match in real life so we've updated the background environment to give a more authentic feeling. 16 football pitches are included in FIFA 22 including Premier League and Bundesliga stadiums. Let your imagination come alive as you challenge your friends on the pitch under the night sky with the scorching sun and discover the lush green football grounds during the green summer.

What's new in Fifa 22:

- Be In Control. The heart of FIFA 21 was the introduction of “Be In Control”, an all new, powerful, deep, and cinematic camera system. New cameras have been dynamically inserted throughout the entire field of play where the viewer’s actions, and reactions, are preserved, making every shot, save, and rebound feel as authentic as ever. This all new system is intuitive and accessible and allows users to get into the action quicker.
- ‘Flash Moments’. The global star system was improved using the new ‘Flash Moments’ system. ‘Flash Moments’ help create the authentic atmosphere of the world’s most played video game, with improved player chemistry, better animations and more player-to-player interactions across the game. Moreover, experience the stunning Translucent Ball impact effects, used on select On-the-Ball actions, such as headers, crosses, and free kicks to give players the ball’s trajectory when bouncing off the ground.
- ‘Customise Your Game’. To customize your gameplay go to PlayerCard and bring more choices and variety to your gameplay. Customize and personalize your team, your individual performance and your voice in game.
- FIFA on PlayStation 4 Pro. The next generation of FIFA can be experienced, yet again, on the PlayStation 4 Pro, starting with the sound upgrades the platform is known for. Add stereo surround sound and 7.1 channel lossless Dolby Atmos audio, all done in Dolby Digital Plus to provide the most immersive audio experience. HD Audio capabilities have been boosted with the PlayStation 4 Pro hardware, now equipped with Dolby True HD 7.1 Surround Sound.
- New Broadcast System. Ultimate Team Live brings gamers together through personal and shared moments. New ‘Lighting Up The Crowd’ is a new broadcast feature now featured in FIFA 21. Players will be able to support their team-mates on the pitch in more ways than ever before.
