Official Website: ? Official Twitter: ? Official Facebook: Do the identification tools in a netapp clustered file server work for SAN storage? We have a netapp clustered file server that needs to be reconfigured. I just found out about the data migration tool, which looks like a good tool for what I need to do. The issue is, I have a bunch of SAN storage in the same chassis. Is there a way to use this tool to move my data from the SAN storage to the NAS storage? A: So, my question was, is there a way to use this tool to move data from the SAN storage to the NAS storage? That depends on the NetApp firmware used in the device. I just looked at a few of the products and they don't say if/how this functionality is supported by the firmware. I'd suggest checking the NetApp Support Suite for device firmware versions.
